

NEC Computers Asia Pacific Announces the Discontinuation of PC Sales in Asia Pacific Markets

Asia Pacific, March 27, 2009 – NEC Computers Asia Pacific Sdn. Bhd. (NECCAP) today announced its intention to withdraw from the PC markets in South and Southeast Asia, Hong Kong, as well as Australia and New Zealand. Due to adverse worldwide economic conditions, and the PC industry's rapidly changing circumstances, NEC has determined that the Asia Pacific PC market for its business holds less potential for expansion, and the company has decided to withdraw from the Asia Pacific PC market in order to focus solely on Japan's PC market, where NEC holds a leading position.

As a result of these recent business trends, NECCAP will institute an orderly withdrawal plan which includes the cessation of any new PC offerings from July, 2009.

NEC will continue to offer ongoing support to existing customers and to honor its warranty and extended support agreements through its network of authorised service providers.
