Lines of Flight Literary Festival: Immerse yourself in art and literature, at the Nanyang Technological University School of Humanities and Social Sciences’ first literary festival, The Lines of Flight Literary Festival held at the campus’s Yunnan Garden this Saturday.

The programme includes performances, readings, discussions and workshops conducted by local and international writers like Grace Chia Krakovic, Timothy O’Grady, Ng Yi-Sheng and Quah Sy Ren, as well as some of NTU’s own in-house lecturers.

Workshops conducted on the day itself will cover topics like fiction writing, creative non-fiction writing, screenwriting, poetry and playwriting.

The Lines of Flight Literary Festival is on at Nanyang Technological University’s Yunnan Garden campus on Mar 17 from 11am to 9pm. Admission is free, but registration is required to attend the various workshops. Log on to english.hss.ntu.edu.sg or e-mail linesofflight@ntu.edu.sg for more information.