

PHOTO: WEE TECK HIAN

WAVE OF THE FUTURE

Nanyang Technological University yesterday launched South-east Asia's first sustainable sports hall, which was built using an innovative wood construction technology. The facility comes with state-of-the-art technologies such as mechanised retractable seats. Named after its curved roof, The Wave was officially opened by Minister for National Development and Second Minister for Finance Lawrence Wong. HOTNEWS•8