

Pollen-Based Paper Lets You Print and ‘Unprint’

A team from NTU Singapore is creating pollen-based paper that can be reused multiple times. With advancements in scalable manufacturing, the “Unprinting” process could be extended to produce storage and shipping cartons and containers.

Learn more about this sustainable alternative to conventional paper.

Topics:

Manufacturing & Prototyping

Materials