

Nanyang Assistant Professorship (NAP) Call

Overview of the Nanyang Assistant Professorship (NAP) Scheme

Launched in July 2007, the Nanyang Assistant Professorship (NAP) Scheme is NTU's elite faculty recruitment programme aimed at attracting and recruiting outstanding young scientists and researchers to conduct independent research in NTU. The NAP awardees would be given a tenure-track Assistant Professor appointment and they will have independence and freedom to pursue their own research directions. The call for application is open once a year (opens in April/May and closes in September/October each year).

Eligibility Criteria

1. Applicant must have shown potential to lead an independent research group and demonstrate track record of early achievements.
2. Applicant must be an early career researcher (postdoctoral fellow or equivalent) with a PhD degree in any disciplines.
3. Applicant must not be an existing Faculty at NTU for more than 1 year at the point of submission (i.e. at the closing date of this 2019 NAP call).
4. Applicant must be committed to take up an independent research appointment in NTU, if selected.

Interested applicants are to submit their applications online.

 Kindly note that only online applications will be accepted. Shortlisted NAP finalists will be notified by mid-Dec 2018, and be invited for a campus visit to NTU in Feb 2019. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.
