

Perspectives on Ferroelectrics and Multiferroics

Professor J. F. Scott

Director of Research, Department of Physics,
Cavendish Laboratory
Cambridge University

I will present an overview of the most popular topics in the field of dielectrics, emphasizing new photovoltaic studies, new kinds of resistive random access memories (RRAMs), room-temperature magnetoelectric multiferroics, and unexpected nanodomain structures.