Ashwin, 23, was diagnosed with low-functioning autism at age two. He has difficulty articulating his emotions and has violent outbursts. His mother, Madam Harjinder Kaur, 51, is finding it harder to control him, as he gets stronger and she gets weaker, with age. Once children with autism reach adulthood, their families are often left to fend for themselves. Amanda Tan, Fiona Low and Samuel He report.