

Top 50 research institutions in the world: NTU ranked seventh

Nanyang Technological University. Photo: TODAY/Ooi Boon Keong

Nanyang Technological University is ranked seventh in the world's top 50 most cited research organisations and is the only local institution to be included in the top 10.

The top three are: Chinese Academy of Sciences, Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Stanford University.

According to data released by Clarivate, a United Kingdom research firm, NTU has 1013, research reports cited by the top 100 innovation institutions.

NTU said that this is a recognition of the university's commitment to deepening interdisciplinary research for the benefit of mankind, and it also shows the strength of NTU in these research areas.

<https://www.8world.com/singapore/ntu-among-top-10-most-cited-research-organisations-globally-by-worlds-top-innovators>