

Singapore deploys integrated smart car park and charging system

Electric vehicles 09 May 2023 by SmartCitiesWorld news team

The The Go Parkin system can detect and identify EVs that have completed their charging session but continue to occupy the lot. Image courtesy: ST Engineering

ST Engineering will build and operate the system at Nanyang Technological University, which will allow EV users to park, charge and transact on a mobile app.