Dear Students,

Welcome back to SEM 1 and trust all's well with you! The heat is on with the upcoming Virtual Job-In Fair 2021 (JIF) from 30 Aug - 3 Sep! Do take this golden opportunity to make your mark by visiting the participating employers' booths. Although the JIF is on a virtual platform, being prepared is still vital and not to take matters for granted. Do your groundwork (especially on your interest employers) and arm ready with your resume and/or cover letter and make a lasting impression with your inter-personal skills and approaches during the networking segment and when clarifying your queries with them. Be courageous and bold to come forward and ask questions and knock on the virtual 'door' of the employers' booth.

This is your chance to do or break and make an impression, so do not be hesitant and even if you must..., 'do it afraid'! Remember what your Career Coaches/Consultants shared and guided you with the 'do and the don't' and do not overthink which may hinder your progress. Be proactive and seize every chance you have now especially in this pandemic situation and apply for the interest/potential full-time job or internship you intend to aim for and leave the rest for its course after you have done so!

"Dear Melissa, thank you so much for the consultation session. As expressed, I think I really learnt more from you than my semester's worth of career foundational lessons :) You really gave me a very comprehensive and macro view of the FMCG industry, which answered a lot of questions and doubts I had before. I also appreciated your explanation of how recruiters especially in the agency setting decide on their remuneration rate - have been feeling a bit "cheated" (haha) as I scroll through agency job openings, but now I understand it better and am more at peace with the reality. Thank you for being so encouraging and patient with my questions. I will remember and apply the little tips you shared as I continue this job application journey. Keep you posted if there is any good news :)"
